Number of Rows (Observations): 1072
Number of Columns (Variables): 13
Variable	Data Type	Description
Pokedex Number	Integer	The unique identifier for each Pokémon species.
Name	String	The name of the Pokémon.
Type1	String	The primary type of the Pokémon.
Type2	String	The secondary type of the Pokémon (if applicable).
Total	Integer	The total base stat value of the Pokémon.
HP	Integer	Base stat for Hit Points.
Attack	Integer	Base stat for Attack.
Defense	Integer	Base stat for Defense.
Sp_attack	Integer	Base stat for Special Attack.
Sp_defense	Integer	Base stat for Special Defense.
Speed	Integer	Base stat for Speed.
Generation	Integer	The generation in which the Pokémon was introduced.
Legendary	Boolean	Indicates if the Pokémon is a Legendary Pokémon (TRUE) or not (FALSE).

15 Beedrill	Rus	Poison	395	65	90	40	45	80	75	1 FALSE	Insight/Observation: After having done and explored charts in spreadsheets like the pie chart and histogram, I got to create a Box Piot which made use of minimum, maximum, and the first and third quartiles of the numerical variables. Conveniently for my data, the Pokemon stats of HPA. Attack, Defense, Special Attack, Special Defense, and Speed are perfect for the application and creation of a box plot. As the name suggests, one thing I observed was how each variable's visual representation had boxes which demonstrated the 1st and 3rd quartile values of the variables. Additionally, the longer, thinner lines of each variable representation shows the minimum and
	Bug										maximum values present for each of the stat variables.
